Mrs. Paris King and children returned to their home in Lexington Junction, Mo., after a week's visit with her mother, Mrs. Ida Finley.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sumner and children of Atherton, Mo., spent Sunday with their parent, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Sumner.

SALISBURY

(Written for last week.)

Justice Trammel's court looked like a "circuit" Monday, when a preliminary was on for hearing. A local trouble was being aired and it may come up later.

The cob famine continues here and kindling wood is not to be had at any price.

Word comes from Carrollton, that Miss Lelah Holderle is very ill and much sympathy is expressed for her.

Those of our people who are using coke for hard coal find they have a job on hand to keep warm and awake at the same time.

Editor Morris of Huntsville was over Monday looking for items and business at the same time.

Not enough winter yet to stop the daily ice wagon.

Ten degrees above zero here Tuesday morning and a wind velocity that made one feel like his clothing was made of gauze.

The roof of the W. J. Atteberry home caught afire Saturday afternoon, but a few buckets of water well directed soon put an end to the blaze. Damage small, covered by insurance. The building belongs to John Munch of Second street.

The remains of Calvin of Riverside, Calif., were shipped here for burial and were laid to rest in the City Cemetery. Deceased was once a resident here.

Theo. Wood and wife, long residents of this place, now of Texhoma, Okla., spent a few days here last week visiting old friends, returning to their home Thursday. Mr. Wood was a nephew of the late Mrs. J. D. Dunn.

Mrs. Fred Lamb was in Kansas City last week shopping.

There was a small crowd in town Saturday and the streets had a Sunday appearance.

Our gold fish froze up Friday night thawed out the next day and are as lively as usual.

The cold snap Saturday morning set all our people shivering at once and a general rush for the coal pile was the result. So far as we know our people are fairly well prepared for winter.

The social at the Christain church, Friday night was fairly well attended and all had a good time.

Mrs. B. O. Winelson has returned to her home in Muskogee, Okla., where her late husband's estate will be administered.

SHOT NEGRO CONVICT

William Cherry, a negro convict, was shot twice by Charles Hargis, guard in the penitentiary Tuesday afternoon. The officer had instructed the convict to report at the punishment hall, after the day's work, to answer some infraction of the rules. Cherry declared he would not report for punishment and attacked Hargis, taking the officer's club from him. Hargis then drew his revolver and shot the negro. One bullet struck him in the left side and the other in the leg. He is in the prison hospital and will not recover, the physician says. Cherry was sent from St. Louis December 30, 1921, for grand larceny, under sentence of two years. Charles Hargis is a Randolph county boy, residing south of Higbee. He was recently appointed to the position he now holds.—Clark Chronicle.
